

Texture Painting

Children learn that “painting” can mean something very different when they make a texture painting using glue and sand or rice as the paint. Thin school glue with water and let your child paint on colored paper. Your child will turn her painting upside down onto rice or sand or spoon it over the glue and lift it up. She’ll be surprised to see how different her glue painting looks covered with sand!

You Will Need

- Colored construction paper
- Thinned school glue
- Paint brush or sponge
- Sand or rice

Skills

- Creative expression
- Eye-hand coordination
- Fine motor skills
- Tactile stimulation

Texture Painting

Children learn that “painting” can mean something very different when they make a texture painting using glue and sand or rice as the paint. Thin school glue with water and let your child paint on colored paper. Your child will turn her painting upside down onto rice or sand or spoon it over the glue and lift it up. She’ll be surprised to see how different her glue painting looks covered with sand!

You Will Need

- Colored construction paper
- Thinned school glue
- Paint brush or sponge
- Sand or rice

Skills

- Creative expression
- Eye-hand coordination
- Fine motor skills
- Tactile stimulation